

Union Protest
for violin (also version for piano)

3 minutes

Brooke Joyce (2012)

Commissioned by Robert Leonard
Piano version premiered by Brooke Joyce, June 2012

Program Note:

Union Protest is based on a popular chant that has become associated with various protest movements in recent years. Variations include “this is what democracy sounds/looks like” and “tell me what democracy looks like.” The spirit of change and the questioning of authority are both ideas that resonate with me and find their way into my music.
